

Fresh Commies Attack

Brief Lull Ends
In Biggest Red
Offense of War;
3000 In New Wave

SEOUL, Korea, (P) — Fresh Chinese Communist troops supported by tanks and thunderous artillery opened a new drive at dusk Wednesday south of Kumsong on the Korean East-Central Front, ending a brief lull in the biggest Red offensive in more than two years.

Frontline officers said 3,000 were believed ready to be thrown into the renewed fight, aimed at an Allied road net.

Fighting was described by officers as heavy where the Reds hit the line.

There was no immediate report of fighting along the rest of the 20 mile front between Kumhwa and the Pukhan River which 80,000 Reds rolled back an undisclosed distance Monday and Tuesday.

A Chinese junior officer captured Wednesday revealed the initial Red assault had been long planned.

Allied officers did not reveal the captured prisoner's estimates of the size of the latest thrust. However, Allied officers thought the renewed action would grow during the night. With part of one new division already fighting, Allied soldiers braced for more fresh Red troops.

Initial frontline reports said there was heavy Communist shelling along the front.

Allied guns answered with heavy volleys, sending shells screaming into Red positions in a steady roar.

Twenty to 30 Communist tanks were believed in the immediate vicinity of the new fight below Kumsong. Chinese armored vehicles have been observed in the area for some time, Allied officers disclosed. Oddly, no Red tanks were employed in the first phase of the big battle which opened Monday near midnight.

Other tanks have been sighted moving into the East-Central sector from the Western Front. Some have been knocked out by Allied gun and planes, officers said.

A combination of stubborn South Korean resistance, driving rain and a blinding curtain of Allied artillery fire had stalled the massive Red drive by 11 a. m. Tuesday along the front.

As sturdy ROK troops braced themselves against attack in the approaching darkness, Allied light planes reported sighting numerous company and battalion-size build-ups. Some of the sightings were in the Kumsong River area, where the ROKs withdrew Tuesday to the south bank under orders from Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor.

Earlier today, the Eighth Army commander flew to the front for the second straight day and said the line had been stalled.

Several small attacks by Red companies (about 150 men each) were reported late Wednesday afternoon east of Kumhwa in the embattled sector, but there was no major Communist activity before dark, Eighth Army said.

In the air, American Sabre jets shot down two MIGs, with Maj. James Jabara bagging his 15th Russian-built jet to boost himself to within one of the all-time record of 16.

The Wichita, Kas., sharpshooter, America's first jet ace, bagged his 15th during a late afternoon sweep deep in North Korea.

Heavier than usual military censorship in Seoul and Tokyo covered news reports describing the depth of the Red penetration.

On the front, Allied forces were fully alerted for further Red assaults. Units were sorted out and redeployed over the bloodied sector east of Kumhwa to the Pukhan River.

Muddy roads were clogged with supply trucks headed toward the front.

Some exhausted soldiers sprawled out asleep on the ground. Others sat by the side of the road, opening blisters and washing swollen feet in muddy water.

Artillery fire fell off, American advisers with the ROKs said the Chinese apparently were moving up their artillery and mortars in support of new positions.

ROK soldiers continued searching for infiltrators left over from the big Red push. Two Chinese infiltrating units were shot up just before noon.

Gen. Taylor was accompanied to the front by ROK Chief of Staff Gen. Sun Yup Pak, ROK Defense Minister Adm. Song Won Il and Brig. Gen. George C. Rogers, chief of the Korean Military Advisory Group.

The South Korean troops who bore the brunt of the Red attack received a personal message from President Syngman Rhee. He told his troops to stand firm and die if necessary to stop the Chinese invaders. He praised them for the fight they have made and exhorted them to even greater efforts.

'Make Or Break' Truce Talks In Secret Session Tomorrow

And Possibility of Breakdown Is Seen With Secrecy Lifted If Break Comes

PANMUNJOM, P. — An authoritative source said tonight a showdown is coming between Allied and Communist truce negotiators tomorrow in a secret session which will "make or break the talks."

"There is a very distinct possibility of another breakdown in the talks," the source said. He added that the veil of secrecy will be lifted from the negotiations if there is a breakdown.

There were strong indications the showdown would come over Red demands for the recapture of non-Communist Korean prisoners freed last month and ironclad guarantees from the U. N. that South Korea would honor a truce.

Armistice Now Up To Reds

Robertson Reports
On War Situation
After Talking With Rhee This Morning

WASHINGTON, P. — Assistant Secretary of State Walter S. Robertson said after a conference with President Eisenhower today that an armistice in Korea now is squarely up to the Communists.

Robertson made the statement to newsmen immediately after giving Eisenhower a personal report on his mission to win the support of South Korean President Syngman Rhee for a truce.

Accompanied by Secretary of State Dulles, who met him at the airport, Robertson checked in at the White House little over an hour after his arrival from the Orient.

Robertson said Rhee "has not changed his objections" to an armistice, "but has agreed to collaborate with us" in an effort to achieve unification of Korea by peaceful means.

The Korean leader had been holding out for an agreement to renew the war if necessary to reach unification.

Dulles said that the President congratulated Robertson heartily on his mission. They spent 40 minutes with the chief executive.

Each of these men expressed appreciation to the 4-H clubs for being hosts on this occasion.

The Rev. D. Warren Neal, pastor of the Broadway Presbyterian Church, led in the invocation after a few minutes of silent prayer by the entire group to thank God for the rain and to ask Him for the rain to continue.

After the dinner, short program was presented by members of the Striped-College 4-H Club who were presented by the program committee, composed of Eileen Bahner, Aletha Moon and Mary Jo Morarity.

Square dancing was then enjoyed by the vast crowd with Charles and Reed Band—Lionel Charles, Clinton and Ernest Eugene Reed—providing the music. There was a caller in each square.

Ike Extends Drought Disaster Area to 32 Counties In State

WASHINGTON, P. — President Eisenhower today extended the drought disaster area to 32 counties in Missouri where lack of water has brought about a shortage of grazing and other livestock feeds.

The order makes drought victims in these counties eligible for federal relief.

At the same time the President named 35 counties as a disaster area in Arkansas. The state of Arkansas had been declared such an area several weeks ago but the counties were not specified until today.

Eisenhower sent a telegram to Gov. Phil M. Donnelly notifying him of his action with regard to Missouri.

Eight states are now included in the drought disaster area: the others being Texas, Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona, Kansas, and Oklahoma, in addition to Missouri and Arkansas.

Here are the 32 counties included in the disaster zone in Missouri:

Barry, Barton, Camden, Carter, Christian, Dade, Dallas, Douglas, Greene, Hickory, Howell, Iron, Jasper, Laclede, Lawrence, Marion, McDonald, Miller, Newton, Oregon, Ozark, Phelps, Polk, Pulaski, Reynolds, Ripley, Shannon, Stone, Taney, Texas, Webster, and Wright.

The 35 counties in Arkansas are: Baxter, Benton, Boone, Carroll, Clark, Cleburne, Conway, Crawford, Dallas, Franklin, Fulton, Garland, Grant, Hot Spring, Independence, Izard, Johnson, Logan, Madison, Marion, Montgomery, Newton, Perry, Pike, Polk, Pope, Saline, Scott, Sevier, Sebastian, Sharp, Stone, Van Buren, Washington, and Yell.

Donnelly received word of the President's action this morning. He noted that he had recommended 11 additional counties be listed for drought aid, as well as parts of 15 others.

Sen. Thomas C. Hennings, Jr. (D-Mo.) advised the governor by telephone the Agriculture Department was continuing its investigation of condition in the counties.

The 11 counties omitted in today's order were St. Clair, Cedar, Benton, Morgan, Dent, Madison, Bollinger, Wayne, Butler, Stoddard and Scott.

School Board Ponders Drop In Meal Limit

The Sedalia Board of Education, at its regular monthly meeting at Smith-Cotton High School Tuesday night, voted to take under consideration a resolution by the Sedalia Civic Club Council recommending that the minimum required number for dinner meetings at the high school cafeteria be lowered from 300 servings to 200.

It also accepted the resignation of two teachers, hired six others, transferred one and granted another a year's leave of absence.

A low bid by Carson Meredith of 28 school pianos. Another low bid by Paul Graham was accepted for the construction of an outside entrance to the lunchroom in the basement of Whittier School.

Heber Hunt, superintendent, reported that four rooms at Jefferson have been floored with asphalt tile and that the other four rooms will also be tiled the same way.

Reinforcement of the roof at Washington School means the loss of the second floor classroom ceilings, he also reported, and the board voted to install acoustical ceilings for all eight rooms. It also directed that the rooms be lighted to provide four ceiling lights to a room instead of the previous two lights.

The Civic Club Council stated that it is impossible to provide dinner service for a group of between 200 and 300 people anywhere in the city but at the school cafeteria, yet certain important functions cannot meet the minimum requirement of 300 servings.

Resignations were accepted from William Bell and Marjorie Thornhill, both elementary teachers.

Transferred was John Pope, instructor in driving training, to an elementary position at Horace Mann, at his request. Hired to replace him as driving trainer was Robert Maxwell.

Also hired were Mrs. Anne Maxwell, his wife, elementary art; Mrs. Anne Lewis Payton, elementary; Mrs. Ardelle Jones, elementary; Miss Barbara Rose McIntyre, mathematics; and Mrs. Katy Hicks Stowe, music.

Mrs. Margaret Harned was granted a leave of absence for the school year, 1953-54.

Propose Big 4 Meeting

Foreign Ministers
Suggest Session
To Soviet Over
German Unification

WASHINGTON, P. — The United States, Britain and France today presented notes to Russia formally proposing a Big Four foreign ministers meeting on German unification.

State Department Press Officer Lincoln White said the United States note had been delivered to the Soviet embassy here this morning and similar steps had been taken by the Allied governments of London and Paris.

This was in accord with agreements worked out by the Big Three Western foreign ministers at a five-day conference ending last night. The Big Three decided to take the initiative in demanding action on reunifying East and West Germany and on completing an Austrian peace treaty. Their common theme called for the session in the autumn.

White declined to give any details but it is known that the formal proposals for the big four talks are expected to be made public soon.

The proposal on Germany represents initiative by the West to put squarely up to the Kremlin—in the face of its internal anti-Communist drive in the light of anti-Communist action in East Germany—a challenge to do something definite about one of the world's worst sources of tension.

Secretary of State Dulles, Acting British Foreign Secretary Lord Salisbury and French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault also called for restoration of "true liberty" to the Soviet satellite peoples of Eastern Europe and announced that if those countries achieve freedom the door to unity with the community now being created in Western Europe is open to them.

On Far Eastern problems, the three ministers announced that economic embargoes against Communist China would be continued indefinitely after an armistice and that the policy of barring Red China from the United Nations would continue pending further consultation.

Britain and France joined with the United States in pledging to work for peaceful unification of Korea.

The three warned Red China against new aggressive moves where in Asia.

They said also they had considered measures for winning the war against communism in Indochina, if Russia accepts the bid for a foreign ministers meeting on Germany and if this meeting results in steps toward German unity.

U. S. officials said it could lead to a Big Four conference at the Eisenhower-Malenkov level.

Pending the proposed autumn session, however, there reportedly is no plan for a conference with the Kremlin at the top level.

Informants reported that the foreign ministers had removed many of the problems under discussion of President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Churchill and French Premier Laniel at Bermuda. The understanding therefore was that though this meeting could still be held, there is no longer an urgent need for bringing it about.

Salisbury left Washington last night to sail for home from New York today. Bidault is expected to fly home Thursday.

In their announcement on Germany, Dulles, Bidault and Salisbury noted the "grave events"—that is, the rioting—which had occurred recently in Soviet-controlled Berlin and East Germany.

They said they demonstrated the will of the people under Soviet rule in Germany to gain independence. The early reunification of Germany, the three declared, "would be a great contribution to the easing of international tension." But they said this requires Soviet cooperation.

Find Girl's Body

MINAKI, Ont. — Searchers today found little Geraldine Huggan dead in the swamp and bush country of Northwestern Ontario. She had been missing for 10 days.

Rain, Not Much, But Some, Proves Moisture Can Fall

In the Spring Fork vicinity, where the lake is located that supplies the Sedalia Water Company with its chief source of water, a resident who has a rain gauge, reported over two inches fell there. This will, with water pouring into the lake from the watershed, largely increase its supply.

Eastward light rain fell. The rain brings to pasture, soybeans, corn and other crops, much needed moisture. Northward and northwest, in the region of Marshall, Concordia, Odessa and other points, rains had fallen previously that failed to reach here.

With some wind here, and at one time rain coming down almost in sheet-like proportions, many auto owners rushed to their cars to find upholstery saturated as it had been by long time rain had fallen they had failed to close the windows to their motor vehicles.

Well, finally it became a fact that it was still possible to rain.

McCarthy Says FBI Clears HST On Canada Spies

WASHINGTON — Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) said today the FBI has assured him that former President Truman did not receive any information he received from Canada about an atomic spy plot.

In view of this, McCarthy said, there would be no occasion for the Senate investigations subcommittee to call Truman for questioning.

A little more than two weeks ago, while Truman was on his first trip East since leaving the White House, McCarthy said there had been "constant reports" that the ex-President had not turned over to the FBI a list of some 150 Soviet spy suspects received from Canadian authorities.

McCarthy fired off a letter to Atty. Gen. Tom C. Clark, head of the Justice Department and the FBI, asking for such a list from Truman. He called this a first step toward deciding whether to ask the investigations subcommittee to call Truman as a witness.

In New York at the time, Truman told news men he had no comment because "what I could tell you, you wouldn't print."

In answer to reporters' questions today, McCarthy said, "I've gotten assurances from the FBI that Truman did not withhold any information which he got from any Canadian source, including MacKenzie King, in regard to espionage."

He declined comment when asked specifically if Truman had turned over a list of names to the FBI.

Young Vietnamese Girl Only Woman At Big 3 Sessions

WASHINGTON — When Vietnamese Ambassador Tran Van Kha went home recently on official business, he left a slim girl in her 20s in charge of the embassy.

And so Elizabeth Nguyen de Nguyen-Khan-Dung, member of a prominent Vietnamese family, became the only woman to participate in one of the sessions held here during the meetings of the foreign ministers of the Western Big Three—France, Great Britain and the United States.

Along with the ambassador from Cambodia and the minister from Laos, she sat down with Secretary of State Dulles and French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault to review the situation in troubled Indochina.

The bob-haired girl declines to tell her age, fearing folks might "think me too young for my job, when the ambassador is here, the first secretary of the embassy, the No. 2 post."

US Takes New Look At Plan to Help Nationalists Keep Isles

WASHINGTON — The United States is taking a cautious look at fresh proposals to help the Chinese Nationalists hold some little islands fringing the south China coast. The islands have been excluded from the American protection afforded Formosa since the outbreak of war in Korea.

The Defense Department, in reply to questions, said today suggestions had been received at the Pentagon, and authorized this statement.

"Since Formosa is an important bastion in the free world's resistance to Communist aggression, the U. S. government is constantly reviewing the strategic situation in the area posed by Communist forces on the mainland and on certain of the offshore islands."

The Pentagon declined to disclose the source of the proposals regarding the islands, from which Nationalist guerrillas have been staging hit and run raids on fleet shipping and against other islands held by the Communists.

Boy Gets His Head Caught In a 'Cave'

KANSAS CITY — Alvin McCully, playing with some friends in a park yesterday, saw a large black hole in a rock cliff 15 feet above ground level, clambered up and poked his head inside.

The hole was smaller than it had looked. Alvin couldn't pull his head back out.

His chums tugged and pulled. They called police, and Patrolman William Hutcherson arrived to do some pulling and tugging too. Alvin stayed stuck.

Finally Hutcherson got a screwdriver and a hammer plus a towel to wrap Alvin's head in. After 25 minutes in the dark, Alvin was chipped free, unhurt.

Shriners Leave Funny Antics for Business

NEW YORK — The Shriners turned today from the liveliness of a parade to the seriousness of business, chiefly involving the welfare of thousands of underprivileged crippled children.

Business sessions start today at the 7th annual convention of the Ancient Arabic Order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine. Most of the meetings will be devoted to the organization's 17 hospitals for crippled children in the United States, Canada, Mexico and Hawaii.

The business sessions come as an interlude between two five-hour parades on Fifth Avenue. A day-long march was staged yesterday, and a night procession will be held tomorrow.

Services at Two Graves Of Commodore Perry

NEW YORK — Solemn centennial ceremonies honoring Commodore Matthew G. Perry were held yesterday at his two graves.

Both New York City and Newport, R. I., have graves which they claim contain the remains of the American naval hero who opened Japan to the West in 1853.

He was buried in 1858 at the Church of St. Mark's in the Bowery in New York. Old Newport newspaper files report removal of the body in 1866 to Newport. But officials at St. Mark's say they have no record of the removal.

Just to make sure, both services yesterday were on the same level, with naval, government and diplomatic representatives on hand.

Congress Freshmen Meet, Eat With Ike

WASHINGTON — Four dozen Republican freshmen in the House piled President Eisenhower with food and questions last night and "stimulating" and "inspiring."

"He certainly has learned a awful lot about politics in six months," said Rep. Cretella (R-Conn.). "He has a good grasp of all the problems of the world and the nation."

Eisenhower was guest of honor at the get-together put on by the 48 first-term legislators. He spoke for a half hour, then answered questions for two hours.

Robin's Nest Flies On a Kiddie Ride

SACRAMENTO, Calif. — Kids in Land Park's kiddieland fly with the birds when they ride the little airplanes.

A mother robin has a nest in the framework of the structure from which the planes are suspended—right against the center pole.

Mrs. Robin drops down to feed her birds and then flies away as the planes, and nest, begin to spin. Sometimes Ray Silva delays the start of a kiddie flight to permit the bird to finish depositing the food. When she returns with another load and finds everything whirling she waits on a nearby fence.

Boy Dies In Fall From Water Tower

ST. LOUIS — A 21-year-old youth fell 250 feet to his death yesterday from a suburban Florissant water tower which he and a companion had climbed.

The youth, Glenn Walling of Florissant, after scaling the water tower was attempting to climb a flag pole atop it, authorities said, when it bent under his weight and sent him tumbling earthward.

Authorities said Bernard Keevner, 19, also of Florissant, climbed the tower at the St. Stanislaus Seminary with Walling but had not attempted to climb the flagpole when the mishap occurred.

Dallas and Ft. Worth May Join to Get Rain

DALLAS — Dallas and Fort Worth, 30-mile-apart Texas rivals, may get together to try to make it rain.

City managers and water officials of the two cities conferred yesterday on whether they should jointly hire Dr. Irving P. Krick of Denver, who does a big business in rain-increasing.

They agreed they should, if their City Councils approve.

Dallas signed a six-month contract last November with Krick's Water Resources Development Corp. While cloud-seeding was under way the city's lake picked up 80,000 acre feet of water. Fort Worth's main lake lost 7,700 acre feet.

New Flare for Navy For Night Photography

WASHINGTON — The Air Force announced today a powerful new flare for night photography and said the device has been responsible for some of the reports of flying saucers in the past two years.

"Police and field officials were besieged with phone calls reporting flying saucers or planes going down in flames" when the 10 million candlepower flare was first tested secretly in 1951 near Windsor Locks, Conn., the Air Force said in a statement.

A test near Detroit also brought numerous calls from excited observers the Air Force said.

Essentially the device is a giant magnesium flare, attached to the wing of a reconnaissance plane and controlled by the pilot.

Navy Destroyer Hits A School of Whales

TOKYO — The Navy today said the U. S. destroyer Blue bumped into two or three whales while en route to a Pacific island.

George Wagner of Memphis, Mo., said:

"When we got back to the spot where we hit the whale we found a large red stain in the ocean with two whales thrashing around. We must have hit a whole school of whales."

The destroyer was not damaged.

Donnelly Has Sharp Budget Axe Working

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. — Gov. Phil M. Donnelly neared the end of his multi-million dollar budget balancing act today. With only three bills left for decision during the day, he continued to cut appropriations passed by the 1953 legislature.

One of those remaining would transfer $24,900,000 from the state's general revenue (tax) fund to the postwar reserve fund which was set up originally to pay for new buildings and improvements.

The governor said he was saving that for the last, along with a big catchall bill on which he was still working today. Action must be completed on all of them by midnight tonight.

In bills signed last yesterday the governor chopped out $3,667,670—most of it from salary funds for the state mental hospitals.

He signed another today totaling $3,664,290 after cutting $50,000 from money allotted to the state Resources and Development Division. He did not disturb a $180,000 item to advertise the state of Missouri in newspapers, magazines, radio, broadcasts and other media.

Other agencies in the Department of Business and Administration, including the Public Service Commission and the State Personnel (merit system) Division, were not disturbed.

Yesterday's action on the mental hospital bill represented the heavy slashing the governor has done on the money bills.

He cut $2,048,120 from the hospitals, leaving them $26,919,230 to run on the next two years. He noted this was still $4,852,694 more than they got two years ago.

He also whacked $619,550 from the allotments for state colleges and universities, leaving them $32,739,560, or $4,470,176 more than they got the last two fiscal years.

The governor said he thought the Legislature got way out of line in boosting appropriations for the hospitals even beyond the amounts the institutions had requested.

The increases grew out of recommendations by a special House committee which toured the hospitals. They caused a bitter House-Senate fight in the closing days of the 1953 session and almost caused the session to end May 31 without any money bills being passed.

In trimming the amounts for hospital salaries sharply, the governor said he thought he had left enough to provide increases both in the staffs and in their salaries during the next two years.

Only minor changes were made in other bills allotting $36,308,800 for the state Revenue Department, $11,338,400 for elected officials and executive departments and $1,409,000 for the legislative branch.

The biggest cuts were made on the allotment for the St. Louis State Hospital—trimmed by $836,716 to $6,728,284. That included cutting a $250,000 fund for personnel training center to $100,000 and paring $500,000 for a new occupational therapy building in half.

Here is the breakdown of cuts—all for salaries—for each of the hospitals:

No. 1 at Fulton, cut $403,144, leaving $3,921,856 to operate the next two years.

No. 2 at St. Joseph cut $553,732, leaving $3,283,868.

No. 3 at Nevada, cut $390,204, leaving $3,394,296.

No. 4 at Farmington, cut $308,888, leaving $3,129,362.

Marshall-Carrollton State School for Feeble Minded, cut $62,760, leaving $3,326,240. That includes $1,000,000 to build a new dormitory for 500 more patients.

St. Louis state training school for feeble minded, cut $292,776, leaving $2,036,224. That includes $12,000 for a new cannery building and $750,000 for a new building to house delinquent detainees.

Donnelly said despite his cuts in appropriations for the universities and colleges, the total appropriated for the coming two years' operations still was nearly $1,500,000 more than the schools got in the two fiscal years just ended.

He made the biggest slash in the money for additions at Lincoln University for Negroes here, whacking $225,000 off that fund.

The University of Missouri's money for additions because, he said, the remaining $135,000 for additions was just what the school had asked for.

In other cases he said his reductions were made because the appropriations were greater than the schools requested or because the amounts he left were ample.

The reductions left the University of Missouri with a total appropriation out of general revenue money of $10,997,950 and Lincoln still will get $1,954,400 out of general revenue.

Other reductions Donnelly ordered for Missouri colleges and the amounts they will have left from the general revenue funds:

Rolla School of Mines cut $30,000 ($20,000 in salaries and $10,000 in additions) leaving $1,445,000.

Northeast Missouri State College at Kirksville, cut $25,000 in additions, $20,000 in repairs and $10,000 for operations, leaving a net of $1,438,800.

Northwest State at Maryville cut $12,000 for operations, leaving $1,198,000.

Central at Warrensburg cut $53,500 ($33,500 for salaries, $11,000 for additions and $10,000 for repairs), leaving $1,292,500.

Southeast at Cape Girardeau cut $42,400 mostly in salary money, leaving $1,220,150.

Southeast at Springfield cut $13,650 for operations, leaving $1,766,350.

Alfred B. L. Hart Services

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Thursday at the Christian Church in Versailles for Alfred B. L. Hart, 31, whose body was found at 11:55 p. m. Monday on Highway 40 just inside the Kansas City limits. The trailer truck he had been driving was standing nearby.

The Rev. J. L. Freeman will officiate at the services.

Burial will be in the city cemetery.

The body was brought to Versailles from Kansas City by Kidwell Service.

Hart is survived by his wife, the former Marjorie Morrison, of the home in Versailles; one daughter, Marsha Lee, 5, of the home; one sister, Mrs. Beulah Brown; four brothers, Lester, Junior, William and Kenneth; and a grandmother, Mrs. L. P. Hart, of Versailles.

The death of Hart was listed as a traffic fatality.

The body, which was found Monday night on a railroad overpass on U. S. highway 40 just west of Manchester avenue, was near the trailer-truck unit Hart had been driving to St. Louis.

Dr. Hugh H. Owens, Jackson County coroner, said Hart apparently was thrown from the truck and was struck by the rear wheels after the vehicle struck the curb.

Dr. Owens said Hart suffered a ruptured liver and kidneys and a pelvic fracture.

EAST BERLINERS BUY IN WEST SECTOR—East Berliners, who crossed the border into the American zone of the city, mass at a market to buy food in the "Battle of Butter." Special cut-rate prices were given the hungry from the Communist zone. Red police, apparently fearing another outbreak, did not interfere. (NEA Telephoto.)

BERLIN, Pr.—Thousands of hungry East Berliners scorned Soviet promises today and came to West Berlin's "relief market" for food they cannot buy in bare-shelved Communist stores behind the Iron Curtain.

It was the second day of a practical food relief program which has brought howls of rage from Communist propagandists.

The food distributed was not much in relation to the 18 million people living on short rations in Soviet East Germany but it was a severe blow to Communist pride.

Right on the sector border in full view of both East and West, "capitalist" West Berlin was doling out food to the people Moscow claimed it could feed without Western interference when it turned down a 15 million dollar American food offer.

The way East Berliners snapped up the Western food at less than a fifth the normal price proved the emptiness of Moscow's claims—and of East Berlin's grocery stores.

More than 1,000 quarts of milk and 11 tons of potatoes were distributed before noon today. Yesterday's output was 1,820 quarts of milk, 2,200 pounds of cherries and 11,200 oranges.

Expect Gavilan To Go All Out Against Fuentes

MILWAUKEE, Pr.—Kid Gavilan, the bolo-punching world welterweight champion, hasn't been too impressive in his last two bouts. A fact which bodes no good for Ramon Fuentes tonight.

Gavilan, the Cuban Hawk who can be very good when he wants to be, is expected to go all out when he takes on Fuentes, of Los Angeles, the eighth-ranked 147-pounder at the Milwaukee Arena.

The match is the first Wisconsin boxing show to be televised nationally and will wind up 40-round fight card. The telecast is scheduled for 9 p. m. EST.

Gavilan, who won his crown from Johnny Bratton in 1951, lost to Danny (Bang Bang) Womber in May and since then has beaten Ralo Scortchilli in a dull scrap. A fast man with his hands and a past master as a boxer, Gavilan has been knocked down only once. That was by Ike Williams several years ago, and the Kid got up to win the fight.

The Cuban has 93 victories, 13 losses and 4 draws. Until he was a contender for the world title, he was surprised by Womber, he had not been beaten in almost three years.

Fuentes, holder of the California welterweight championship, has been beaten only once in 22 bouts. He likes to mix, takes a punch well and can hit soundly with either hand.

MKT Spelled Out In Flower Bed Near Local Depot

A flower bed has been planted on the MKT depot grounds next to Third Street in an attempt to beautify the surroundings.

F. G. Buchanan, ticket agent, C. L. Drenon, section foreman, and all the members of the section crew 24 1/2 have been responsible for its growth and maintenance.

The bed itself consists of many varieties of flowers and in the center of this are the letters "MKT" in a floral pattern.

Thieves Take $932.56 From Western Auto

Western Auto Associate Store, 105 West Main, was broken into early Tuesday morning and $932.56 in money taken from the safe, after thieves forced open the rear door of the store.

The break-in occurred sometime between 5 and 5:40 a. m.

Carl Batty, owner of the store, was notified at 5:55 a. m. that the rear door of the store was open, after which the investigation was made.

The safe was the only thing bothered in the store and, when a check was made for fingerprints on the safe, none could be found.

The items taken were: one check for $7.80 on Charles Redden, a check for $15.46 on Virgil Doty, one on John Mullins for $7.65 and one on the Sedalia Little League for $135.86.

Senate Ratifies Three NATO Treaties of US

WASHINGTON, Pr.—The House today tentatively cut 32 per cent, or $27,900,000 from President Eisenhower's request for funds to operate the State Department's foreign information service.

It upheld an Appropriation Committee recommendation that the service, which operates the Voice of America, be given $60,000,000 for the present fiscal year.

Eisenhower had requested $87,900,000 and former President Truman last January sought $114,515,800.

Democrats pleaded with Republicans to "uphold" Eisenhower, but their pleas fell on deaf ears as the House beat down an amendment to boost the Voice appropriation to $80,000,000.

Missouri Invaded By 363 Kansas Boys

WICHITA, Kas., Pr.—A Kansas invasion of Missouri began here today — bigger, maybe noisier, certainly much more friendly than Quantrill's raids the other way across the border.

Ten special busloads of Kansas boys—363 of them from 75 South-west cities and towns—pulled out of Wichita at 8:04 a. m. for St. Louis.

Awaiting there is a two-day frolic, including tickets to Thursday's doubleheader between the Yankees and the Browns.

John Christie, Killer of 7, Hanged Today

LONDON (AP)—John Reginald Halliday Christie, 35, the Notting Hill sex strangler who confessed he killed seven women but might have murdered more, was hanged today in Pentonville Prison.

Even as he died, a controversy raged over whether the mid-appearing transport worker and wartime auxiliary cop was guilty of a baby's murder for which another man was hanged three years ago.

The case of the insanity-pleading whooper in killing, who walked up his victims' bodies in his apartment or buried them in his garden, had shocked Britain as no other murder spree since Jack the Ripper's.

The sentence was carried out by Albert Pierrepont, England's chief hangman, who keeps a Yorkshire pup called "Help the Poor Struggler" when not at his official duties. Pierrepont placed the noose with its attached black hood over Christie's head just before the scheduled hour, 9 a. m. Then the trap was sprung with a crash that echoed throughout the grim prison.

A crowd of about 200 persons, including many school children, were gathered outside the prison gate. A truckload of police waited near the gate but there was no disturbance.

The continuing controversy hinged on Christie's confession at his trial that he strangled a neighbor's wife three years ago. The neighbor, Timothy Evans, was accused of killing both his wife and baby daughter but was convicted and hanged only for the infant's death. Christie's confession aroused speculation that Christie also killed the baby, though he denied this.

Queen's Counsel John Scott Henderson, after a secret government inquiry, announced yesterday that Christie had lied in his confession and that he did not kill Mrs. Evans.

Evans' mother and two sisters remained unconvinced and wrote Queen Elizabeth II last night, asking a public investigation. Seventeen Laborite members of Parliament also presented an 11th-hour motion demanding Christie's execution be stayed so he could testify at such an investigation.

The death sentence was carried out on schedule, however. Christie was sentenced June 23 after a five-day trial in Old Bailey Court. He had testified that his ghoulish kills over a 10-year period—most of them streetwalkers throttled or suffocated in the throes of illicit love—might have totaled more than seven women but he wasn't sure.

He was tried, however, only for the murder of his wife Ethel, 34, whose decaying body was found beneath the parlor floor in their dingy Notting Hill tenement apartment.

During the trial, 2 psychiatrists testified Christie went berserk because he was "fascinated by dead bodies." His own lawyer said the killer was "mad as a March Hare." He testified he strangled his wife with a stocking to put her out of her agony during a convulsion. He claimed he kept the body under the parlor floor because he couldn't bear to be separated from her.

Major Jabara, First Jet Ace, Gets 15th MIG

SEOUL (AP)—Maj. James Jabara, America's first jet ace, bagged his 15th Communist MIG today to become the world's second-ranking jet ace.

Jabara was on the 95th combat mission of his second Korean tour. The victory also made him the second triple jet ace in history. The 4th Fighter-Interceptor Wing said Jabara downed his 15th jet in a late-afternoon fight with a "punch of MIGs."

One other MIG was downed in the fighting, the 5th Air Force said, by Capt. Clyde A. Curtin. Today's victory puts Jabara within one MIG of the all-time record held by Capt. Joseph McConnell of Apple Valley, Calif., who bagged 16.

Jabara downed six MIGs on his first Korean combat tour. Officers at his base said he paid his radar gunsight high credit for the latest kill. He picked off the MIG at relatively long range for jet fighting, they said.

The Air Force said earlier this week that Jabara would leave for home before the end of July whether or not he completes his tour.

Pension Plan Dispute Closes NY Restaurants

NEW YORK (AP)—A dispute over a pension plan for waiters has closed more than 75 restaurants, including some well-known midtown eating spots, and threatens to spread.

The dispute comes with Manhattan's hotels and restaurants vying for the business of 100,000 visitors here for the Shriners' convention. Waiters, members of the AFL Consolidated Dining Room Employees Union, struck 16 restaurants Monday, and yesterday owners of other restaurants layed off 750 waiters.

Chief point at issue is the administration of a pension plan. Some restaurants tried to stay open yesterday with owners working behind bars and in the kitchen. At one place customers served wash dishes.

An employer spokesman said a total of 3,000 employees have been affected by the closing so far. He estimated that 1,000 waiters and about 5,000 other employees of 125 establishments might be affected eventually.

But Managing Director Charles Watson III fixed that. He converted the contributed Mexican peso to American money and got 11 cents, which rounded out the sum to $1,021,832.

Drew Pearson's Washington Merry-go-roundDemocratic Senators Accuse White House of Playing Politics With Surplus Food for Europe

WASHINGTON — C. D. Jackson, Ike's dynamic psychological warfare adviser, deserves chief credit for pushing through the $15,000,000 food gift to East Germany which has put Moscow on the spot. Certain State Department officials also deserve credit.

But the peculiar thing is that for several weeks they couldn't get any action at the top. That was why the food offer was not made at the height of the East Berlin resistance. Secretary of State Dulles, asked at a press conference over a week ago whether he had considered sending food to East Berliners, said no. He seemed puzzled at the question as if the idea had never crossed his mind though the food plan had been hammered in this column and others for three weeks.

However, Dulles promptly sent a cable to U. S. High Commissioner Conant in Germany asking what he thought of the idea and got back a favorable reply.

Meanwhile, in the White House, the food plan for East Germany had got sidetracked by two things:

1. An attempt to get a much wider authorization for the President to use surplus food in any area, any amount and at any time; and

2. A piece of political throat-cutting aimed at Senator Hubert Humphrey, Minnesota Democrat, by his Republican rival Congressman Walter Judd also of Minnesota and an old friend of Ike's who plans to run against Humphrey next year.

That is what made Democratic senators sure, made them accuse the administration of playing politics with foreign policy.

As early as last January, Humphrey began proposing that U. S. surplus food be sent to hungry nations. On June 8, Senator Humphrey after securing White House approval introduced a bill to that end. Three weeks later the White House pulled the rug out from under Humphrey and withdrew its support. Then it submitted virtually the same identical word-for-word bill as Humphrey's but under Republican sponsorship and with no limits on time or spending.

What happened was that when Congressman Judd heard that his Democratic rival might get credit for solving the farm-surplus problem, he phoned the White House and demanded that the Humphrey bill be stopped.

Knowland Says No

It was that the administration had actually helped Humphrey draft his bill. This was brought out behind closed doors of the Senate Foreign Relations committee as it was about to approve the Humphrey amendment unanimously. Just before the vote, California's Senator Bill Knowland, acting majority leader, waited in. Senators exhibit the writing transcript as proof of what happened.

"It seems to me, I having just come in and this perhaps being a desirable amendment," Knowland observed, "it seems to me that it is rather far-reaching . . . before it actually goes into the bill, even on a tentative basis, I would like to have the judgment of the treasury department and the commodity credit corporation and perhaps the agriculture people on this, because this is of considerable importance, and I do not think we ought to act too hastily. This is the first time I have seen this particular language and I do not think we ought to put it into the bill until we have at least had a chance to study it a bit and have some testimony."

However, Tyler Wood, representing the Mutual Security agency at the closed-door meeting, spoke up: "I believe, Senator Knowland, our people discussed this when they were asked to draft it, quite fully with the Bureau of the Budget, the agriculture department, I believe—and, I know the State Department and I believe the Treasury Department was also consulted. I could check that."

"I wish you would," suggested Knowland.

Wood then left the room to telephone the various agencies. He returned a few minutes later and announced: "Mr. Chairman, I find out that this language has been thoroughly checked and agreed by all the departments mentioned."

The Amazed Aiken

Despite this, the White House promised Judd to block the Humphrey amendment. So, when it came up for a Senate vote three weeks later, Agriculture Chairman George Aiken, Vermont Republican, made the amazing statement:

"I have had (from the White House) this afternoon a communication to the effect that if the senator from Minnesota undertook to give any impression that they had approved this amendment, that definitely is not so."

Aiken then offered an amendment in behalf of the White House. With two exceptions — no limitation on time or money — it was almost word for word what Humphrey had already introduced. Aiken couldn't believe it. The administration hadn't even gone to the trouble of changing Humphrey's wording.

When the Minnesota senator pointed this out, the amazed Aiken asked:

"Does the senator from Minnesota understand why he received a copy of the President's bill, which I introduced today, over three weeks before the White House cleared the bill and before it was sent to the senator from Vermont?"

"I never knew that I had a pipeline into the White House with such good connections," laughed Humphrey.

Afterward, when Aiken learned all the facts, he apologized.

Washington Whirl

The Senate elections committee has voted another $167,000 to investigate Senator Chavez of New Mexico. Republicans are determined to oust Chavez, a Democrat, because they fear Senator Taft will be forced to resign from the senate because of ill health. Taft's successor would be named by Ohio's Democratic Governor Frank Lausche, thus upsetting GOP control of the senate — unless Republican Pat Hurley can be slipped into Chavez's seat. . . . President Eisenhower isn't waiting for the law to be changed before giving out more atomic information. He has sent word to the atomic energy commission and the defense department to take a more liberal interpretation of the present law. . . . The Air Force has urged either strengthening our defenses in Europe or pulling out our air units — on the grounds they are too vulnerable to Russian surprise attack. . . . Secretary of State Dulles is irked at General Mark Clark's letter to the Reds, guaranteeing that "the U. N. command will to the limits of its ability establish military safeguards to insure that armistice terms are observed." The State Department claims that Clark went beyond his authority, that he has committed US troops to fight the South Koreans in case they rebel against a truce. . . . Congress is having trouble with other bumpy chairman — House Appropriations boss John Taber of New York. He has refused to name anyone to confer with the Senate over differences in the appropriations bills. Although the Senate has been waiting a month to begin conferences. Meanwhile, Taber, is letting the appropriations log jam build up on the theory that senators will be in such a hurry to recess they won't want to waste time arguing, but will give in to the House.

Behind the Open Revolt In East Europe: Soviet Plunder, Factory Speedup, Hunger

By LEON DENNEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

PARIS — Why have workers and farmers behind the Iron Curtain finally begun to revolt openly against their Soviet-dominated rulers?

I put this question to men with first-hand information — delegates to the Paris congress of Eastern exiles from Eastern Europe.

Summarized, they said it was because:

1. Six years of Soviet plunder have plunged countries once noted for their rich farm produce into acute food shortages.

2. The Red speedup in the factories, geared to produce mainly for Russia, was well nigh intolerable.

3. Farm collectivization had ruined the farmers.

Listen to Eftime Gherman, former President of the Romanian Miners' Federation, a fiery little man of 35 with parchment-like skin and burning eyes. He spent 19 years in jail under the Fascist regime in Romania. The Fascists hated him because of his staunch pro-democratic and pro-Western ideas. For the same reason he is hated by the Communists.

Soon after the Reds seized power in Romania in 1945, Gherman was sentenced to death. He went into hiding and escaped from the country in 1948 one step ahead of the firing squad.

"Hunger and Communist exploitation of labor are behind the uprisings," Gherman said. "The Soviets have been plundering these countries for years. Once there was food for everyone. Now bread is hard to get even with a ration card. Vegetables, which in Eastern Europe once supplied all of Western Europe, now are almost unobtainable."

Another delegate is Franciszek Blasas, Polish labor leader and a fugitive from the Soviet firing squad.

"The Western world was startled by the heroic revolt of the Polish workers," he said, "but those of us who have contact with the country were aware that the sufferings of the Polish people had reached a point beyond endurance. We only hoped and prayed the revolt would not be premature."

He said that after the strikes and demonstrations in East Germany and Czechoslovakia there was no holding the Polish workers back.

Delegates said that the riots, which reached a climax in East Germany, Czechoslovakia and Poland, were now spreading to Hungary, Romania, Bulgaria and the Ukraine in the U.S.S.R. itself.

Here are some of their reports:

BULGARIA — A glass works near Pernik was put out of action last April. In Sofia the "9 September" factory was set afire and seriously damaged.

The World Today—
Next? Molotov or Malenkov?

By DON WHITEHEAD
(For James Marlow)

WASHINGTON — "Three little injuns out in a canoe . . . One fell overboard and then there were two."

That's the way it went in the old jungle—and that's what happened in the Kremlin canoe.

The canoe just wasn't big enough for Malenkov, Molotov and Beria. So Beria went overboard with an assist from his old pals. They pinned on his shirt tail the label "bourgeois renegade."

"Bourgeois renegade" obviously is a dreadful sort of curse word. It's the sort of thing that would cause men down in Texas to say: "Smile when you say that, Pardner."

Beria may be undergoing right now the brainwash treatment his secret police undoubtedly used to get those abject public confessions of guilt for which Russian trials are famous.

If the script is followed, Beria will confess to being "an adventurer and agent of capitalist imperialism" and acknowledge the sin of plotting to seize power and return Russia to the ways of capitalism. Then it's very likely Beria will be shot.

That leaves the two little injuns—Malenkov and Molotov—staring at each other from opposite ends of the canoe. Each of them must be aware of the dark figure of death in the shadows around them. Each must know that one death isn't enough to insure power and safety for either.

In this evil atmosphere, the Soviets are going through an internal crisis at the same time that workers are daring open rebellion in East Germany.

There are reports of restlessness in other satellite countries.

Perhaps the greatest comfort the Western world can take from this situation lies in the knowledge that hopes of freedom haven't been crushed behind the Iron Curtain—and that Russia appears to be in

Woman Betrays Him

CLEVELAND — As so often happens, a woman betrayed Paul Smith, arrested for violating his parole from the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kan.

"I'm not your man," said Smith, 42, when U. S. deputy marshal went to his home yesterday with a warrant. But the deputies lifted Smith's right sleeve to uncover a tattoo of a naked woman, just as it was described in the arrest papers.

PETE MORRISON couldn't use his gun without danger of killing Walter. He thrust the gun back into the holster and drew his own knife as he rushed to the boy's rescue, but Juan Chee was already inside the tent, and Pete saw sure none of the Mexicans were his purpose. There was someone lying helpless inside the tent he intended to destroy, or use a knife at the throat to bargain for his own life.

Pete yelled. It was something he had never done in a fight, but it was torn out of him; half in warning, half in dismay. He lunged frantically, driving his shoulder into Walter's back, but Juan Chee sprawled sideways was hurt. He had several slashes to his leg, but Juan Chee went down, but Pete and Walter had not been able to cripple him when he came to it.

Juan Chee twisted like a lithe dead Mexican out of the fire, and snake until Walter was pinned be-rolling the four bodies together. He neath him, and looked up at Pete covered them with a blanket. For a moment Pete looked into the girls, once they had got the Navajo's black, expressionless eyes cramps out of their muscles, pro-bases' betrayal? There were still then he saw the long blade Juan wounds. Cass was adept at that kind of business.

St. Lawrence Seaway Would Open Inland Ports of U. S.

By JAMES MONTAGNES
NEA Special Correspondent

TORONTO — One dream of the backers of the St. Lawrence Seaway project is the flow of sleek ocean liners and cargo ships from overseas that will head through the waterway bound for North America's inland ports.

But already the cargoes of Europe and North Africa are coming direct to those inland ports in foreign-flag ships from across the Atlantic.

With the Seaway still on paper, the docks of cities on Lakes Ontario, Erie, St. Clair, Huron and Michigan will handle more international shipping this year than ever before. The traffic has been growing since 1948. There were 360 foreign trips in and out of Toronto alone in the 1952 season.

These ships bring practically all of the British and European automobiles now sold in cities close to the Great Lakes. They bring steel, heavy machinery from England, France and West Germany for Canada's construction boom.

They bring textiles, wire, glassware, chemicals, toys, prefabricated houses, tin, tea, olive oil, wines, sewing machines, marble and brass—no only to Toronto but to Cleveland, Detroit, Milwaukee and Chicago as well.

Their season begins in mid-April, when the ice goes out of the locks that join the St. Lawrence with Lake Ontario, and lasts until the locks freeze up again.

To reach the Great Lakes ports, ships must go through 26 locks along the St. Lawrence, limiting their length to 250 feet.

In the U. S. Senate, a foreign relations sub-committee has approved a bill to authorize U. S. participation with Canada in constructing a 27-foot channel in the

Six Rural Areas Vote To Be Reorganized Into School District

By a vote of 323 to 169, the residents of six rural school districts in Boone County Tuesday chose to merge as the county's last reorganized school district, R-VI.

The reorganization combines the districts of Willow Fork, Westview, Hickory Grove, Centennial, Fortuna and Tipton, enlarged which includes Syracuse. It increases the assessed valuation of the district by $600,000, the Tipton district now having a total of $3,400,000. It takes in an area of 27 square miles.

The election was called by the Boone County board of education. Polling places were set up at the public school buildings in Fortuna, Tipton and Syracuse.

Another election will be held in 30 days to choose the new district board of education.

The polling at each of the three schools was as follows: Tipton, 228 for, 42 against; Fortuna, 32 for, 126 against; and Syracuse, 63 for, one against.

Variable Limits

The earth's eastern and western hemispheres are not defined definitely. Some maps use the meridians 15-degrees west and 165-degrees east as the dividing lines, while others use the meridians 20-degrees west and 160-degrees east.

Gold Converter

"Philosopher's stone" is the term applied to the mineral sought by alchemists which would, upon contact, convert base metals into gold.

"Nose Twister"

The rhabdrium is named from the Latin words rhabdus, meaning nose, and tangeri, meaning to twist, due to the plant's pungent odor.

Cole Porter Believes You Must Get Used to His Songs

By Bob Thomas

HOLLYWOOD — The trouble with my songs is that you have to get used to them.

This is Cole Porter talking. He is one of the Big Five of modern American music. The others: Jerome Kern, George Gershwin, Irving Berlin, Richard Rodgers. These men have generally been caressed by the critics while Porter takes a beating.

"I just get burned at the critics," said the sophisticated Penn. Ind. "Every time I write songs for a show, they say, 'The music is not up to Mr. Porter's standard.'"

"One time my wife and I got so peeved that we decided to find out what my 'standard' was. She keeps vast books of clippings and we went back to my first Broadway show, which I did with a friend of mine from Harvard. The critics then said, 'These boys should leave New York and never come back!'

The composer added that his clash with the critics is due to the nature of his songs.

"It would be different if I wrote songs like Irving Berlin," he observed. "People love Irving's songs the minute they hear them. They also love them 20 years later. But my songs have to grow on you."

Some of Porter's greatest hits have been slow builders. Like "Night and Day," which Fred Astaire introduced in "The Gay Divorcee."

"My wife and I left for Europe after the show opened and we were very disappointed that no one seemed to like the song," he recalled. "Fred was the only one who recorded the song at the outset."

"Then there was 'Begin the Beguine.' I wrote it for a show called 'Jubilee' and nothing happened with it. The only critic who mentioned it was Robert Benchley, who said, 'Why throw in just another rumba?' Five years later, Artie Shaw recorded the song and made it a hit."

"Years later, Benchley used to hang out in a club on the Sunset Strip. Whenever I would walk in, the band would play 'Begin the Beguine.' Bob would hide his face behind a napkin and say, 'I know, I know.'"

Porter is now resting between engagements at his French chateau-like home in Brentwood. He even flies the Tricolor beside the swimming pool. Although slowed down physically by his legs, both broken in a horse fall several years ago, he keeps up a hot creative pace.

Having put "Can Can" on Broadway, he returned here to oversee the film version of "Kiss Me Kate" with which he is very happy.

He is starting work on another Broadway show, which will be announced soon. He has turned out scores for plays and pictures with regularity since the first World War. Does he ever worry about running out of ideas?

"No," he replied flatly. "I just hope that my mind will stay alert enough to keep working."

He admitted that shows are harder to compose these days and he good-naturedly blamed that on Rodgers and Hammerstein.

"It was easier to turn out tunes in the old days," he sighed. "But then Rodgers and Hammerstein began writing great shows in which the songs were related to the plot. Now you can't just write a song and throw it into the show in any spot."

His favorite song? "I guess it's 'Love for Sale.' I like it best because it's kind of a steeplechase, being banned from the radio and so forth. I can't understand it. You can write a novel about a harlot, paint a picture of a harlot, but you can't write a song about a harlot."

Only Looks Bald
The bald eagle is not actually bald. After it is several years old, the feathers of the head become skinning white, giving a bald appearance.

TUNISIAN HEIR? — Prince Mohammed Sadek is favored to become the heir to the Beylical of Tunisia. The 65-year-old prince would succeed his late brother, Sidi Azzeddine Bey, assassinated early in July.

KERATITIS (PINKEYE) OF CATTLE AND SHEEP

Most farmers have no trouble recognizing pink-eye. Its name is very descriptive. It may be caused by one or all of several different pus forming bacteria. It is thought that vitamin A deficiency predisposes to infection, along with strong sunlight and dust.

Continued neglect may result in fever, loss of appetite and general systemic reaction.

It seems to me this disease gives us more trouble in treating successfully than most any other. So far, the only recommended treatment is: First, separating the infected animals from the herd, confine the infected animals in a dark place, give succulent feed and plenty of water. Treat eyes daily with a sulfa powder, solution or emulsion.

Most of our leading laboratories think that there is little or no merit in using a mixed bacterin (vaccine). However, many of our farmer customers insist that it does help to a certain extent. We have a large stock of the market's finest products for this purpose.

Mantle Hurts Leg In All-Star Game, Might Miss Yanks' Game With Brownies Tomorrow

Pitching Makes Difference, Gives Nationals a Win

CINCINNATI (P)—Has the All-Star injury pin struck again? Casey Stengel was a mighty worried man today as he took his league-leading New York Yankees into St. Louis for a three-game series.

News that Mickey Mantle found it painful to walk following the aggravation of a pulled leg muscle in yesterday's All-Star Game was even more distressing to the grizzled pilot than the American League's 5-1 defeat at the hands of the Nationals.

The pain was so severe that Mantle may not be able to play against the Browns tomorrow night. The switch-hitting star won't be sure until before game time knock down the Crocker Field but all he knows is that his leg is "hurtin'."

Stengel was blaming himself for the start of the game that day for Mantle's injury. He permitted Mantle to play in the All-Star Game against his better judgment. It wasn't until five minutes before the start of the game that Casey decided to yield to Mantle's insistence on playing.

In the seventh inning, Mickey hit a sharp, foreplay grounder to shortstop, and in putting on speed to avert a double play, re-injured his left leg. The young slugger was playing with a taped leg, hurt for the first time two weeks ago, and re-injured last Sunday against Washington.

The crowd of 30,846 cash customers saw a game entirely different from what they had anticipated. Expecting to see the sluggers

Four of the Top Teams Open State Semi-Pro Meet Friday

By Dick Wade

Four of the most highly-regarded teams in the 18th annual Missouri Semi-Pro Baseball Tournament will see action Friday night as the classic opens shop at Liberty Park.

Holden's slugging Chiefs will tangle with the souped-up Jefferson City Tweedies in the 8 p. m. opener, and the powerful Vess Sodas of St. Louis swap punches with star-studded 332nd Combat Engineers from Ft. Leonard Wood in the finale, scheduled to get underway at 10.

Two blowouts of Holden fans, rated the most faithful and noisy in the state, will follow their heroes here opening night. Manager Stub Roberts will rely on either Lefty Jack Pickett or Pete Smith to stop Tweedie batsmen and send the delegation home happy.

Over the weekend the Holden club crushed two well-thought-of foes to run their win string to 18 for the season. On Friday night they rallied in the final three innings to stun Pleasant Hill, 14-3, and on Sunday started early to belt the Kansas City TWA nine, 8-2.

Hank Geritz threw a two-hitter, both home runs, in the Friday contest, and Duane Holder allowed the TWA's only eight safe blows on Sunday. Shortstop Bill Deitch led the Chief hitters in the TWA game with two doubles and a homer in four trips to the plate.

According to a Jefferson City paper, the Tweedies have added several out-of-town players to their roster for the tourney. The Tweedie management is reluctant to disclose the caliber of these additions, although one of them is known to be George Gaare, who cracked two home runs for the Jeff City Redbirds here recently in a game against the Sedalia Blues.

The Vess-332nd contest promises to be a battle of ex-professional stars. The St. Louis unit, built around players on last year's title-winning Schaeffer's Bar nine, has eight men on its roster with pro experience plus two topnotch college players, while the Engineers offer a squad containing ten men who have been paid to play baseball.

In all probability, the St. Louis team will bank on Lloyd Rupp, an all-state pitcher with Schaeffer's last year, to get it off on the right foot.

The 332nd can counter with any of four moundsmen who have played professionally. The best bet, however, is ex-Purdue University star Eldon Nelson, who has a 12-1 mark for the Engineers this season.

Other possibilities are Bill Lanning, a $10,000 bonus beauty in the Cleveland Indians' chain who worked for Ft. Smith, Ark., last season, or Paul McAuley, who won 18 and lost eight with Oshkosh, Wis., in 1952.

State Semi-Pro Commissioner Hank Williams said Tuesday evening that his tentative schedule calls for four games on Saturday, two in the afternoon and two in the evening, and three on Sunday, two afternoon and one at night.

When the Sugar Creek team takes the field in this year's tourney, many followers of semi-pro baseball will find their memories going back to the 1948 classic.

Two mound stars on the current club stole the show that year. Best remembered is Johnny Yarusso, who held the Sedalia Merchants to one hit while fanning 19; the other is Eddie Maglich, who won two tourney games for the self-same Sugar Creek nine.

Another familiar face on the squad is Jud Christensen, former infielder and manager of the Independence Ace of Clubs team who has appeared in several tourneys here.

Sugar Creek backs its plottings with a bevy of young performers from Kansas City area. On its roster are three Novaks, Andy, a pitcher; Frank, a catcher and Jerry, an infielder.

Stock Car Races On Friday Nights At Sweet Springs

Modified stock car races, in which several Sedalia drivers have been taking part, are held every Friday night on the new quarter-mile oval at Sweet Springs Memorial Track.

Sponsored by the Central Missouri Racing Ass'n., the races include drivers from Missouri, Kansas and Iowa and one of the stars is Lucky Niemeyer, Kansas City, the midwest's stock car racing champion of 1952.

There have been few serious accidents, but there are always many thrills as the speeding cars whirl round and round before large crowds under the lights of the new park.

Organized for three years, the racing association is now hoping to be able to establish some other track in Central Missouri.

Some of the drivers from Sedalia include Kenny Krelzer, Jess Anderson and Bob Esser with three more reportedly ready for action for the first time this coming Friday night.

Sportsmen vs Post 93 At Liberty Park Tonight

Sedalia Sportsmen will play the American Legion Post, No. 98, at Liberty Park at 8 tonight. Brooks will be on the mound with Noid watching.

Sedalia Little League All-Star Playoff Next Monday Night

Sedalia's two Little League all-star squads, one from each of the local leagues, will engage in a sub-area playoff at Little League Stadium next Monday evening to determine this city's representative in the Central Missouri Area Tournament to be held July 27-28 at Lebanon.

This arrangement was set up by Jim Walters of Joplin, the director of Little League District 4, who approved by Bob Young of Ft. Wayne, Ind., Region 6 supervisor.

In its opening game, July 27, in the Lebanon tourney, the Sedalia champion will take on the Lamar team in an upper bracket contest, while in the lower section Lebanon will play Joplin.

Winners of these two contests meet July 28, and the victor will represent the Central Missouri Area in the District 4 playoff at Joplin Aug. 3-4.

Running concurrently with the Lebanon tourney will be similar events at Joplin, southwest area; Crystal City, eastern area; and at Burlington, Kan.; the Colorado, Kansas and Oklahoma area.

At Joplin, three home town teams and one from Carthage will fill the four-team bracket. Carthage will conduct a sub-area championship (like the one here) on July 20 to pick the best of its two leagues. This team will meet the opens here Aug. 10-11.

The National League attack was paced by Enos Slaughter and Reese, a pair of veteran All-Star performers. Slaughter, now a 10-year-old, in All-Star play, gave his greatest performance. He rapped two hits, drove in a run and scored two. He also stole a base and electrified the crowd with a brilliant diving catch in the sixth inning.

Reese, niftiest in eight previous All-Star Games, drove in two runs in a single and double Stan Musial's two hits but they didn't figure in the scoring.

The Phillies' Richie Ashburn also contributed to the National League's scoring. His pinch single off loser Alie Reynolds drove in the first of two fifth-inning tallies and broke a scoreless deadlock. Dickson drove in the final National run with a single off Satchel Paige in the eighth. The hit followed singles by Roy Campanella and Slaughter.

The Americans received shutout pitching from southpaw Bill Pierce to match three scoreless innings of pitching by Robin Roberts. Each allowed only one hit. Spahn, who received credit for the victory, hurled two hitless innings before giving way to pinch hitter Ashburn. Simmons permitted one hit in the two innings he pitched.

Sports Roundup—Ted Williams Had Gay Time On Bench With the Americans

CINCINNATI (P)—It was like old times on the American League bench before the All-Star Game. Ted Williams was back from the American League's first game, and he greeted old friends from baseball.

Teddy was an honorary member of the American League team but, of course, he wore no uniform, not even the uniform of a Marine. Open-necked sport shirt, tweed sport coat and a pair of brown slacks helped ease his return from life as a jet pilot in Korea.

"Hi, Skipper," he yelled to Casey Stengel. "Didn't see your second baseman." He referred to Gerry Coleman, who was called back to the Marines last year the same day Williams got his call. "But he's all right," he said. "Doing a hell of a job. As I understand it, he doesn't fly any more. We tried to get together several times but never made it."

Ted, looking a little older than when he went away, spied Al Rosen, the Cleveland slugger who has been doing his best to take over the home run and RBI departments where Williams used to shine.

"See you're going pretty good with that willow," he said, handing a bat with icky hands.

Dizzy Trout poked his head in the dugout, trying to clear the way for some camera shots with his movie machine. "Pretty soft racket you got now," said Ted. "Two or three hours a day on the radio and you're done for the day."

Trout, now a radio man in Detroit after years of pitching in the American League, came right back at him.

"Sit down and relax. You look like you're nervous. Don't worry, you ain't hitting against me. What are you going to do now, go into radio?"

Yogi Berra, an old "enemy" from the Yankees, moved in to shake hands.

"Hi, Muscles," said Yogi. Seeing Trout, he added, "Things are tough. Things are tough."

Ticker-Tape Welcome Planned For Hogan on Arrival Home

NEW YORK (P)—A ticker-tape welcome was planned for Ben Hogan on his arrival home from Europe. Hogan, who arrives from Europe tomorrow, is expected to be met by a large crowd of fans and a ticker-tape parade. Hogan, who won 13 national championships, U.S. and British, before retiring at age 28, had been away for 18 months. Hogan was last seen in 1935 when he won his first big one.

At Worthington, the New York Giants' rookie ace who has pitched two consecutive shutouts, says he was a mascot at a baseball game at Philadelphia High in Birmingham and just fair at college in the University of Alabama. Hogan, actually in his three years of professional baseball, two at Nashville and part of one at Minneapolis, he had a total of only four shutouts.

"Frank Shellenback (Giants' coach) did it," says Al. "He taught me how to follow through and snap my curve ball."

Wes Westrum, who has caught Kirby Higbe, Fitzsimmons and other knuckleballers, says the Giants' Hoyt Wilhelm has the trickiest knuckler of them all. "It has more speed and more action," he said. "I don't know where it's going, the batter doesn't know where it's going and neither does Hoyt. That makes us all even."

Gardner Mulloy is eager to captain the U. S. Davis Cup forces against Australia next winter, but word is he hasn't a chance. The job very likely to go again to Vic Seixas, the Wimbledon champion who is the new favored boy of American tennis.

Felice Torza, the half-pint golfer from St. Charles, Ill., who was runner-up to Walter Burkemo for the PGA championship at Birmingham, Mich., a week ago, says he

Stanley Wins Governor Race In Virginia

RICHMOND, Va. (P)—Thomas B. Stanley, a quiet conservative who stuck strictly to character during the campaign, won a runaway nomination for governor in yesterday's Virginia Democratic primary election.

He trounced State Sen. Charles R. Fenwick by a lopsided majority of nearly 2 to 1. He will go against Ted Dalton, the Republican nominee and GOP national committeeman from Virginia, in the Nov. 3 general election in what already is shaping up as a sterner fight than the one decided yesterday.

Both Stanley, who will be 63 tomorrow, and Fenwick are considered members of the dominant organization wing of the party, although Stanley enjoyed the role of favorite son.

The organization leader, Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.), took no public part in the campaign but, immediately after Stanley's victory was apparent, he wired congratulations and promised his "enthusiastic support" to try to stem whatever the Republicans might offer.

Lt. Gov. A. E. S. Stephens of Smithfield also scored an easy victory in his bid for renomination over delegate Charles N. Loving of Bath. Atty. Gen. J. Lindsay Almond was unopposed for renomination.

When The Associated Press ceased tabulation of returns early today, these were the unofficial totals:

For governor—1,671 of 1,816 voting precincts gave Stanley 141,399 to Fenwick's 73,616.

For lieutenant governor—1,649 precincts gave Stephens 139,892 to Loving's 46,792.

There also were contests for 41 of Virginia's 100 House of Delegates seats in the primary and the results removed several well-known members.

Stanley stepped down from a seat in Congress to run for the job he has had an eye on for a dozen years or more.

The wealthy Henry County furniture manufacturer will seek to succeed Gov. John S. Battle, who under Virginia law was not eligible to be a candidate to succeed himself.

The Republicans, with Dalton for governor, Stephen Timberlake of Staunton for lieutenant governor and Walter E. Hoffman of Norfolk for attorney general, have put in the field what is their strongest ticket in the past quarter century. They're "hopefully" thinking this may be another GOP year of fulfillment after last year's presidential sweep in Virginia and the election of three Republican congressmen in the state.

CIO Protests White House Failure to Name Its Choice to Post

WASHINGTON (P)—The CIO has protested to the White House about failure to name its choice, John Edelman, as an assistant secretary in the Department of Labor, whose top officials are former AFL men.

The CIO made public letters from its president, Walter Reuther, to Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams who, it said, did not answer them. The letters disclosed the White House had sought to persuade the CIO to nominate someone other than Edelman, Washington representative of the CIO Textile Workers Union.

Reuther said the basic issue was "whether a decent, loyal American is to be barred from appointment to public office because of possible unjustified attacks against him by certain members of Congress."

Sightseeing Yacht Hits Pier, Hurts 8

NEW YORK (P)—A sightseeing yacht carrying 169 passengers rammed a bridge piling in the Harlem River yesterday, then veered off and hit a pier. Eight persons were slightly injured.

The mishap was the second in three days involving boats carrying tourists on cruises around Manhattan Island.

Rudder trouble was blamed for yesterday's mishap, involving the yacht Normandie.

On Sunday another vessel, the Gotham, became stuck in the mud not far from the scene of yesterday's accident.

Two Children, Only 7, Becoming Citizens

NEW YORK (P)—Blonde Erna Kreitman and Stanley Rosenfeld, each 7 and unrelated, were not satisfied that they became American citizens last year when their Polish refugee parents were naturalized.

The youngsters wanted to become citizens in their own right. So the Immigration and Naturalization Service made special arrangements for them, and yesterday they went to the service's offices.

Stanley took the oath of allegiance and received his final papers. Erna answered questions in a preliminary examination and will have to go back to take the oath.

Hal Boyle's Column—Advice to Brides on Setting Household Finances In Shape

(EDITOR'S NOTE—After curing her husband of honeymoon blues, the bride's biggest problem is to set the family finances straight. But how? In the following article, second of a series, some veteran husbands advise June brides how this can be done painlessly.)

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (P)—The big problem of a June bride in July, when the honeymoon is over, is to teach her husband he can't throw away his money the way he did when he was courting her.

Her task in at least two out of three American homes is to take over the spending of the major part of the paycheck herself.

How can she do this without starting a Civil War in the home—or without leaving her husband secretly feeling he wedded a lady con artist?

I asked a group of older married men how they would advise a bride on this problem. They expressed flat disbelief that any woman, even a tender bride, would listen to advice on matrimony from any man. But they were flattered at the idea—strange as it seemed to them.

They divided into two camps.

"The best thing for her to do is to let her husband handle the money until the landlord threatens to throw them out because they are behind in the rent, an auto loan company repossesses their car, and the department stores cut off their credit," was one view.

"Then he'll be glad to turn the family finances over to her."

Those in the second camp thought this made about as much sense as the theory that the best way to cure an ache in the toe is to hit yourself over the head with a hammer.

"The thing for the bride to do is to take over the handling of her husband's income gradually," said one old-timer.

"You have to break him to the harness gradually, just as you do a colt. A horse gets so he has to take the harness. But if a wife breaks her husband in too fast he will resent her, and the harness, too, all his life."

His fellow wise men nodded gravely.

"The best way is for the bride to divide the dough into three piles each payday—one pile for him, one for their bills, and one for her."

"Naturally, the one pile at the start will be so small that even her husband will object that it's unfair."

"But as he gets used to letting her pay the bills, she gradually changes what's in the piles. She begins to put more $5 bills at the bottom of her pile, more $10 bills in the middle pile, and more $1 bills on her husband's pile. Before long he will be asking her for lunch money three days before payday, and never know really what's happened to him. It's the old shell game."

The group then voted unanimously for the following recommendations to brides:

1. As a young husband is upset and feels lost the first year of marriage, see that during that time he is allowed the consolation of buying a few pretty things just for himself—at least one suit, a pair of shoes, three shirts and a necktie now and then."

2. "Don't treat yourself to a fur coat that first year. Be brave. Make him feel guilty because he is getting more new things than you are."

3. "After that you can buy yourself anything you want. He'll never know it's new anyway unless you start bragging."

There was one final tip, and the other veteran husbands cheered the one who made it:

"Once a bride has thrown her saddle over the family paycheck, she should never be jealous. No gold-digger is dumb enough to go after a guy who lets his wife handle his money."

"And a bride who does out the lunch dough to her husband each day should realize he is not keeping another woman on it—not unless they are making love at hot dog stands."

(Tomorrow: How a bride can get rid of her husband's old pals.)

Teamsters, Contractors Agree On No Strike In Jurisdiction Dispute

KANSAS CITY (P)—The teamsters union and contractors agreed late yesterday that no strike or work stoppage will result from a jurisdictional dispute in the construction industry here.

Settlement of the jurisdictional question marks a big step toward ending the 10-week tie-up of the industry in the Greater Kansas City area.

However, no agreement has been reached on wages yet and negotiations are continuing on that question.

The contractors said they hoped to obtain similar agreements on jurisdiction from other craft unions.

Orville L. Ring, head of the teamsters union; James E. Burke and W. W. Hutton, contractors' representatives, put the jurisdictional agreement in writing.

The pact states that the employer shall make all work assignments, which can be appealed to the National Joint Board on jurisdiction. The union is to continue working until the Joint Board acts, and all parties will comply with its ruling.

Adenauer Welcomes Big 3 Decisions

BONN, Germany (P)—West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer today welcomed the Big Three foreign ministers' decisions in Washington as strong contributions toward the reunification of Germany and the unification of Europe.

The chancellor issued a statement from his Black Forest vacation resort in which he expressed special pleasure that the Big Three endorsed his program for free nationwide elections and the formation of a free all-German government as cardinal points in proposed discussions with the Russians over Germany's reunification.

He also hailed the Big Three support given to the lagging European defense army plan as "certain to clear away doubts about ratification" of the army treaty and delays in completing the plan for European political unification.

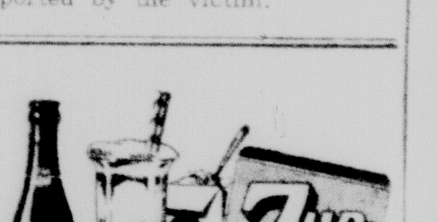

He said he welcomed the Washington proposal for a four power meeting with the Russians in the early fall to discuss the German problem.

Government sources were pleased that this date would come after the Sept. 6 West German elections.

Robber Returns Funds Taken from Station

Sure enough, the envelope was there, containing $77 cash and $350 in checks, the exact loss reported by the victim.

St. Louis May Hold 6-Week Celebration Of Louisiana Purchase

ST. LOUIS (P)—St. Louis may hold a six-week celebration of the 150th anniversary of the Louisiana purchase next year, Mayor Raymond R. Tucker announced yesterday.

"St. Louis must have a celebration next year to adequately mark the sesquicentennial," he told newsmen.

Previously several local organizations had hoped to stage a 150-day celebration this summer but the plans failed to materialize.

The mayor said next year will do just as well. The purchase was made in 1803 but the U. S. didn't take possession until 1804. The world's fair held here to celebrate the 100th anniversary was in 1904.

Soviet Makes First Grant to UN Program

GENEVA, Switzerland (P)—The Soviet Union today announced its first grant to the technical assistance program of the United Nations. It promised the equivalent of a million dollars. The United States contributed $11,400,000 in 1952 and has pledged a similar amount for this year.

A. A. Arutunian, Soviet delegate, made the surprise announcement at a meeting of the 18-nation U. N. Economic and Social Council.

Iran Parliament Closes Down, Nears Collapse

TEHRAN, Iran (P)—Iran's Parliament was closed down in virtual collapse today following the resignation of 27 deputies supporting Premier Mohammed Mossadegh.

Their walkout left the aged Premier to govern without any legislative interference.

With the resignations, the Majlis, Iran's last remaining legislative house, was unable to muster a quorum (69) of its 79 members.

Mossadegh dissolved the Senate last October.

The Premier has announced he will hold a referendum on his policies and will resign if the public's vote does not back him up.

He has not issued any plans for holding the referendum, however.

The parliamentary crisis came after months of wrangling over unprecedented powers granted Mossadegh last summer, permitting him to govern by decree.

Parliament has been paralyzed since February when the opposition, led by Ayatullah Seyed Abolghasem Kashani, fiery Moslem religious leader, began boycotting session after session. Only nine of the last 40 scheduled meetings have been held because of the lack

US Returns 2,000 Mexicans Per Week

MEXICO CITY (P)—The Mexican government says the United States is returning illegal Mexican migrants at the rate of 2,000 a week and has sent back 25,476 since March. Most of the men jumped the border to find work on U. S. farms.

Of a quorum. On July 1, Kashani was replaced as speaker by Dr. Abdullah Mossadegh, a Mossadegh partisan.

The 27 deputies from Mossadegh's National Movement handed Mossadegh their resignations yesterday after a four-hour caucus. Mossadegh did not join the action because, he said, the speaker must be impartial.

The deputies' two-year term normally would end in the spring of 1954. The last Majlis elections were never completed and only 79 of the 136 seats were filled.

Bee Blamed for Loss Of 4 Cars and Truck

WASHINGTON, Ind. (P)—A bee was blamed for the loss of four new automobiles and an auto transport truck yesterday.

Clifford Potts of Madison, Ill., said a bee flew into the cab of his truck and caused him to lose control. The truck carrying four new cars overturned, and all the cars and truck were destroyed by fire. Potts suffered minor injuries.

New Alemite Discovery Cuts Car Worries in Half!

CD-2 ALEMITE

Cures sticky valves in 50 miles! Ends sticking hydraulic valve lifters in a few miles! Sold on absolute money-back guarantee!

Here's an amazing new product that will give your car the same sweet performance at 80,000 miles as at 20,000! That will prolong your motor life two to three times! Will keep your motor clean of carbon deposits, clean of all deposits that cause sticky valves and rings, sticking hydraulic valve lifters, loss of power and final breakdown.

Here's all you have to do. Just add CD-2 to your present oil—or drain and add fresh oil and CD-2. The cost is trivial.

The benefits are immediate, sure and lasting. Get CD-2 today—for longer motor life for your car!

CD-2 is not to be confused with any product now on the market!

Don't accept substitutes as being "just like" CD-2. There is nothing like it. CD-2 will not dilute your motor oil—will not disappear or fade in a few miles. With good oil—it gives a heavier, longer lasting film for longer protection of vital parts.

Alemite CD-2

3. Dissolves lacquer-like deposits on valves, pistons.
4. Eliminates rust and bearing corrosion.
5. Reduces heavy crankcase deposits.
6. Gives oil extra wear-resistant quality.

Ships of America

The CONFEDERATE CRUISER ALABAMA

AP Newsfeatures

This ship, which achieved undying fame in the Civil War, was built in England, under the supervision of a Confederate agent. She was designed to harass Federal shipping rather than to fight, but, with her six 32-pounders and two pivot guns, she could do considerable damage when necessary. She was equipped with two powerful engines and carried enough coal to last 18 days. However, with a good wind, her long narrow lines and her barkentine rig, with especially tall lower masts carrying huge fore and aft sails, made her a fast traveller without the use of steam. Her captain was Raphael Semmes, who had resigned from the Federal Navy, after serving 21 years. Under his command, she sailed the great shipping lanes of the world, covering 70,000 miles and capturing over 60 ships. Sailing out of Cherbourg, June 19, 1864, she encountered the Federal Ship Kearsarge and, after a brave fight, the Alabama was sunk by superior gun fire.

WINS FUNDS TO FIGHT RARE DISEASE—Lee Henry, II, of New York, victim of the rare blood disease, hemophilia, made a heart-touching appeal to aid fellow victims when he appeared on Dennis James' "Turn to a Friend" radio show. So as a reward, Dennis and film star Lenore Ulric planned this surprise dinner for him at New York's Belmont Plaza Hotel. The Hemophilia Foundation supervises distribution of funds for the fight against the rare condition, in which failure of the blood to clot causes excessive, sometimes fatal, bleeding.

Bill Coughig Tells of Camp For Optimists

Will Coughig, 15, made a report on Camp Opto to the Optimist Club at the regular noon meeting Wednesday. He gave a very informative report on the camp which is held in Kansas City, to which he was sent by the Optimists, and related many of its activities.

He told of the regular presidential elections that they have, and also how the senators are elected. He gave examples of how these boys can work for the others in the camp.

Citizenship was stressed, he said, and the camp had many speakers who told them advantages of our American way, and showed films on this subject. He told of having the camp divided into four divisions, he being in the oldest group. There were many activities, such as swimming, archery, baseball and horse-back riding, and competition was the main thing that was stressed in all these events. Bill then thanked the club for sending him to this camp and for giving him the benefit of participating.

Harold Barrick, president, gave the club a few statistics on the camp, and pointed out that Bill was one of four, out of the 85 boys there, who was chosen to stay on as a junior counselor. Unfortunately, he was unable to accept this honor.

At the business meeting Mr. Barrick gave a brief resume of the district Optimist meeting held in Topeka, Kan., which he attended last week. He said that he learned a lot, and received many new ideas which could be put into use here.

The Rev. Robert Reinhardt was introduced as the guest of Claude Boul, and following this the chair announced that regular weekly bulletins are being sent to all Sedalia members.

Maurice Hogan, who is in charge of membership, explained membership application blanks that members had received and reminded them of this year's motto, "Each one get one".

Announcement was made of a board of directors and committee chairmen meeting to be held at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday.

Whether McCarthy Will Call Intelligence Official for Questioning Is Uncertain

WASHINGTON — Whether Sen. McCarthy's all-Republican Senate investigations subcommittee will call intelligence official William P. Bundy for questioning was left up in the air today.

A conference with Allen Dulles, director of the supersecret Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) where Bundy is employed, resulted in at least temporary postponement of McCarthy's plans to question him.

McCarthy, Wisconsin Republican, accused Dulles last week of blocking the subcommittee's efforts to bring Bundy before it for questioning. He called it "blatant attempt to flout the authority of a congressional committee."

McCarthy told the Senate Bundy had contributed $400 to the defense fund of Alger Hiss, former State Department employee convicted of lying under oath when he denied he had slipped secret papers to a pro-Soviet spy ring. After subcommittee members conferred behind closed doors with Dulles yesterday afternoon, McCarthy said Bundy "may still be called" but that a decision had been deferred pending attempts to work out arrangements for questioning witnesses without impairing security.

A statement issued by McCarthy, and approved by Dulles, also said the subcommittee will turn over to the CIA all information it has about Bundy and "immediately thereafter the agency will re-evaluate Mr. Bundy's security status under President Eisenhower's new security order."

CIA officials said Dulles took a firm stand against permitting Bundy to testify because of the sensitive nature of the intelligence agency. They said there is no present plan to subpoena Bundy, but that if he should be summoned he would be advised not to appear.

McCarthy's statement added that "Mr. Dulles assured the subcommittee that there is no plan to give Mr. Bundy duties in addition to his present assignment."

McCarthy had said he understood Bundy was under consideration for assignment as liaison officer between the National Security Council and the Atomic Energy Commission.

Other developments related to the controversy-ridden subcommittee, from which all three Democratic members resigned last week, included:

1. McCarthy said the subcommittee had called off a hearing scheduled for today to which Dr. Robert L. Johnson had been summoned to explain a new policy he set last week for choosing books that may be used in the State Department's overseas libraries.

Denounced by McCarthy as "utterly ridiculous," Johnson's directive would permit the libraries to stock books by Communist authors

if the books serve the ends of democracy. McCarthy said subcommittee members had talked it over and "wondered whether much was to be gained" by calling Johnson, since he is retiring as head of the State Department's International Information Administration.

2. McCarthy said he had been assured by the FBI that former President Truman did not withhold any information he received from Canada about an international spy ring.

Two weeks ago McCarthy said Truman might be asked to appear for questioning about this, but today the senator said there, now supporting the Communist apparatus in the United States. 4. McCarthy said that, subject to taking it up with the other subcommittee members, he planned to name Karl Baarslag of Silver Spring, Md., former head of the Americanism Committee of the American Legion, as the group's research director.

In Baltimore, O'Connor said he had not been offered the job and wouldn't accept it if he were.

McCarthy last week first refused, then accepted, Matthews' resignation. Before their walkout, the Democrats on the subcommittee denounced a magazine article in which Matthews said Protestant clergymen form the largest group
